Dear Mead Families,

A funny old week and thank you again for your understanding and forbearance with the national industrial action in schools.

It was lovely to see the children return today, looking very cheery in their red themed outfits in support of Comic Relief. It seems like nearly every class has raised at least £20, so that will be close to £300 that we can donate as a school. Thank you.

Next week brings National Poetry Day on Tuesday, and throughout the week the children will be learning different poems for a grand poetry recital on Friday.

Early Years will be learning 'The Happy Poem' by James Carter;
Years 1 to 3 will be learning 'The Word Bird' by Simon Crabtree;
Years 4 to 6 will be learning 'Still We Burned' by Laura Mucha.

Teachers will add the poems to Seesaw if you would like to read them with your child too.

I've had the pleasure this week, along with our other leaders, of 'proof reading' the reports which go to print next week to be sent home to you in the week before the Easter holidays. They were a joy to read and testimony to the wonderful understanding our teachers have of your children. It will be great to discuss the reports and much more at Conversations Week – available to book from Monday 27th March.

Thanks as always for your support,
Mark Stenton
Headteacher

On Thursday 30th March, Mrs Baber is running a reading fluency workshop for parents and carers of KS2 children. She'll explain: what we mean by 'reading fluently'; how we develop reading fluency at school and how you could support your child at home.

The session will be held at the Hilperton site, but is of course open to parents of children at Wingfield too 😊

If you would like to attend the workshop, please email the school office to confirm your attendance via office@themead.wilts.sch.uk

Ever thought about volunteering?

Wiltshire's Independent Visitor Scheme is looking for people who can spare a couple of hours of their time every 3-4 weeks.

Volunteers are needed across Wiltshire to befriend children in care. Young people living away from their families often really value having a consistent independent person who can take a special interest in their lives.

Wiltshire Independent Visitor Scheme is looking to take on more independent visitors to fulfil this valuable and rewarding role. Volunteers are needed who can communicate well with young people, share in their interests and who have regular time to spare.

If you are interested in knowing more please contact the scheme on
