Dear Mead Families,

This week we have spent a great deal of time looking at children's books, particularly in Reception to Year 2, and across the school in relation to geography and history learning. You will be delighted to know that the progress is strong. From some immaculate handwriting in younger years to examples of really secure historical and geographical knowledge all the way through the school, we were very proud of what we read, saw and heard. It will be wonderful to get back to sharing this work with you, and at our Parent Conversations next term, teachers will be able to use visualisers and screen share in order for you to see what your child has produced. I'm confident you will be very proud too.

Next week, we are opening our doors after school, with appropriate Covid protective measures still in place of course, to allow prospective nursery parents to have a look at the lovely Mead Orchard Nursery. Places are available for September and do please share this with any of your friends or family who may be looking for local nursery provision. It's an absolutely lovely nursery with beautiful grounds and an amazing team, providing excellent preparation for transition into Reception class.

Warm regards
Mark Stenton
Headteacher
